Newsletter No. 9

25th November 2016

Curriculum News

We have had another good week and the children continue to work hard. Last week's anti-bullying theme was followed up this week by a visit from PCSO Matt Taylor. He talked about anti-bullying and safe people to talk to. Why not ask your child about their blue butterfly badge and what this means?

Communication

Check out the new look website at:

<http://sprattonprimary.org.uk>

Whilst parts of the website are still under construction, there is some useful information for parents including historic copies of our weekly newsletters. We also use Twitter and Facebook to share information to parents. Please note we will only use our texting system for Pupil of the Week, emergencies or very short notice items. Book bags are also a mine of information – definitely worth checking regularly.

Absence

If your child is absent from school please contact the office on the day of illness before 9.05 am. This tells us know your child is safe at home.

If we do not here from you we will follow these steps to ensure we know your child is safe:

1. If we haven't heard anything by 9.30am we will make phone calls to try and establish contact.
2. If we have been unable to reach any of the emergency contacts by 11am we will carry out a home visit.
3. Any concerns about a child's safety will be reported to the police. Your child's safety is of paramount importance to us.

Uniform

At Spratton we believe pride in your appearance means pride in your work. Please check out the school's website for expectations of dress code. Polite reminder: School hoodies are only for PE sessions, not daily wearing. Thank you for your continued support.

Pupils of the week

Fantastic efforts by our pupils of the week; Harry (class 3), Tiana (class 2) and Betsy (class 1) all had to show real determination with their learning. Their continued hard work and improvements have been recognised.

... And, as promised a photo of Will (class 3) complete with his silver medal. We wish you all the best for your week training with the GB team at the end of December!

Our value for this term is Determination

Please remember to visit our new school website regularly, which is still under construction including important upcoming events at... <http://sprattonprimary.org.uk> Alternatively, follow us on facebook at: Spratton Primary School
